

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Cleo Anderson The Anderson Media Group

Email: cleo@theandersonmediagroup.com

Tokyo Milk: A Beauty Line to Indulge Yourself In Pamper yourself in Tokyo Milk's unique and delicious products.

LONDON - England, December 2008 Known the world over for its delectable fragrances and lip balms, Tokyo Milk is an excellent choice for loved ones at this time of year. With an ability to make products that stand out from the crowd, the Tokyo Milk range possesses beautifully unique characteristics, right down to the packaging.

Tokyo Milk's Fragrances are fun and flirty and come in a variety of different scents. "Let Them Eat Cake", an ode to Marie-Antoinette, is a blend of vanilla cane, coconut milk, vanilla orchid and white musk. If you want a sweet scent choose "I Want Candy", made up of crisp apples, peaches, violets and roses. If a floral scent is more your style, be sure to choose "French Kiss" a sweet pucker of mandarin orange, gardenia and tuberose or "Song In D Minor" a blend of white orchid, orange flower and gardenia, all in perfect fusion. For an extra special touch, each bottle has its own vintage image and typewritten label, which allows for the bottle to become a collectible even after the perfume is finished.

Tokyo Milk's lip balms are also a must-have this winter, and come in a variety of highly moisturizing and scrumptious flavors. The Tokyo Milk lip balm range come in adorable vintage, collectible boxes that also contain a kissing tip and famous kissing quotes. So take your pick and make your lips kissable with scents such as "Cherry Bomb", "Honey Blossom" or "Sweet Cream" which leave a hint of sweet cherries, sweet honey blossom and sweet vanilla cupcakes respectively, on the lips. Tokyo Milk's lip balms are made with the pure ingredients of aloe, shea butter, sunflower seed oil, beeswax, vitamin E and aloe vera so those looking for natural goodness for their pout need look no further than Tokyo Milk. Who can resist?